

IS THERE LIFE ON MARS? LIVE LIKE THE BEDOUIN ON A TUNISIAN ADVENTURE THAT IS OUT OF THIS WORLD

Deep in the heart of the Tunisian Sahara, the newly opened CampMars offers adventurous travellers a unique opportunity to experience Bedouin living on the desolate desert landscape.

Owned by adventure tour specialists SudXtreme, and located 45km from the nearest water-source, guests can spend the night in perfect isolation under the canvas of the traditional Bedouin tented community.

Drawing on the Bedouins' respect for the fragility of the desert environment, guests are encouraged to adopt a strict regime of recycling and eco-friendly living, learning the beautiful simplicity of life amid the dunes.

The opening of CampMars is indicative of UK holidaymakers' recent interest in desert touring, already proving a popular stop-off on a variety of SudXtreme's quad bike, motorcycle and 4x4 desert tour

With a heady mix of culture, history and incredible adventure, Tunisia's golden south has fast become a Mecca for British holidaymakers eager to uncover the region's true potential, engaging in activities ranging from camel trekking through to paragliding and hot air ballooning.
